THRIFTY TIP – BUY LOCAL AND EAT IN SEASON

The average meal travels 1200 miles by truck, ship, and/or plane to reach your dining room table. If you eat a melon in January, it was most likely shipped from S. America, California or Florida. Garden Share's seasonal recommendations for the North Country, for the winter, include winter squash, onions, garlic, root crops and for the spring, spinach, asparagus, rhubarb, greens and for the summer, berries, melons, peas, tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, fresh herbs, and for the fall, apples, pumpkins, cabbage, kale and carrots.
